

Local High School Welcomes Veterans of all Wars ..by Bob Ulrich

Sacramento Valley Merchant Mariners Participate in “Woodland High Schools Veterans Day”.

Woodland High School in Woodland, Ca. (Yolo County) held its sixth annual “Junior Class –Veterans Day” with nearly the entire Junior class participating. Each Veteran Was interviewed by from 3 to 6 students about their individual experiences and how the time in the service effected their lives. The kids were great as usual and coordinators

History teacher Mike Owens and English teacher Erica Chung said that students were more than paying attention. They were very interested and always say it is an important event in their high school Junior year.

Above: That’s me with the students at my table. They were outstanding. Its always great working with the high school co-ordinators of this event and with Attorney Larry Schaperio of the American Legion, who helps organize the attendance of Veterans of all conflicts from World War II to the present.
